“ Anna and Joe were such a lovely couple. My husband and I met them when we bought the house on Namakagan Road that they had loved at an earlier time. They stopped by, gave us information and advice on care of the lovely garden they established, and we even shared some bluebells one spring so they could nurture them in their home on Ogden Road. Joe was like a caring "uncle" whenever we sought his advice on house upkeep. He truly loved to help, and loved this very special house. Good people, lives lived well and with caring. We will remember them fondly.
