“ Lee, you will forever be everything to me. I didn't realize one person could make such a impact on my life. You are the reason I know what love is. I remember the first time you told me you loved me, it was pouring rain out and we were by the river fishing, we ran back to the car, you put a blanket over me and kissed me and told me you were inlove with me while we listened to "our song" luv bug by kevin gates. it was the first time I ever actually felt butterflies in my stomach. You are the reason I will never take life for granted again. I will forever be inlove with you lee always and forever ❤️
