“ Elsie wanted to go to the stockyards. So we went out just Elsie and I. We were sitting there watching people and the Auctioneer. Then I saw out of the corner of my eye a movement. I looked over and Elsie is raising her hand. I looked to the floor to see what she was bidding on. It was a potbelly pig. I asked her if that was what she wanted? She said Buddy wanted one. She buys it. Now we have to get it home. We had nothing to put it in. So we got a box. We carried it out to the Grandwagoneer. The whole time it is ramming the corners with its snout to get out. Someone will have to hold the box and keep it in. She does not drive. It was decided that she would sit in the back and hold the box to keep it together. She looks at me and says, "You don't think people can see me." We start laughing. And I said, "Nooooo"
