

Floyd Kent Robinson

January 27, 1923 - August 10, 2018

Floyd Kent Robinson, 95, well-known life-long resident of South Hill, Orwell Township, PA passed away with his family by his side Friday afternoon, August 10, 2018 at his home. With the loving help of family and devoted caregivers Floyd was able to remain in his home. Floyd was born at home on the family farm in Orwell Township on January 27, 1923 the son of Clarence Linus Robinson and Olive Pettes Robinson.

After graduating from both the Orwell High School and the LeRaysville High School in 1940 as was customary at the time, Floyd continued working on the family Maple Century Farm with his father and remained dedicated to assisting his family during the difficult World War II years as his older brothers Fenton and Curtis served our country in the military forces. Floyd's responsibilities in the operation of the farm prevented him from physically attending college, however with the desire for knowledge and self-improvement he continued his education through correspondence courses and also remained an active reader throughout his lifetime. On October 22, 1945, Floyd married the former Ethel Chilson in Newfoundland, PA. Floyd remained active in farming with the assistance of his family until retiring in 2003. While operating the farm, Floyd also worked as a carpenter, drove school bus, grew and sold strawberries, raspberries, and home-made maple syrup. In addition to his vast berry crop, Floyd also enjoyed growing vegetables for his family and shared a portion of his harvest by donating to TACO to assist those in need.

Floyd was a member of the Herrickville United Methodist Church where he formerly served as a Sunday school teacher as well as in other capacities and for the past few years had attended the Wysox Presbyterian Church with his daughter Loretta. He also enjoyed cooking and baking goods which he shared at dinners held at the Wysox Church. During 1967-68, Floyd and his family created "Robinson's Pond" on his property, a beautiful pristine local landmark which is enjoyed by family and friends to present. Floyd served as a director for the Northeast School District for 33 years, as an advisory board member for the Farm and Home Administration and as caretaker for the South Hill Cemetery for many years. Floyd and Ethel treasured wonderful memories of family gatherings, square dancing together, playing cards and games and socializing with their friends.
