“ I remember meeting Whitey at Weis many years ago. He had this funny sense of humor that made him so likable. That same sense of humor carried on all the days that I had the privilege of knowing him.

What stuck out even more was the strong faith that he had in God. Whitey's words and actions spoke of the love that he had for the Lord and he was always there ready to listen to you when you had a problem. He would give you good Godly advice and then he would pray with you.

I'm going to miss my brother Whitey, but I know without a doubt that I will see him again in Heaven, That's where he is right now, completely whole , no more sickness in his body and he is probably joking around and rejoicing with those who have gone on before him.
