“ I have some wonderful memories of Fred. I think my favorite was how he loved and cared for my children. They knew him as Grandpa. Jordan wrote a essay about him when he was in 5th grade. "Practice Makes Perfect". Fred taught him to never give up. My children adored him because he was an extraordinary person. He was there for all of their births, birthday's, Christmas's, etc. while they were growing up. He was also there during our loss of Brianna. I will be forever grateful for the love he had for not only my children but also his love for my Mother. Sincere condolences to all of you.

“ Uncle Fred was always singing or whistling! He seemed to always have a smile on his face! He faced life head on with the ultimate belief in his Heavenly Father! I hope you all can be like your father and be kind to yourselves and take whatever time you need to heal! Everyone heals differently. Sharing your memories with each other and speak his name often! We love you Uncle Fred!
