“ We as a family grew up as next door neighbors of Henry and Loretta Spencer and their sons of which I have remained great friends. I remember Henry as a hard working and fair man who raised great boys with a good work ethic and have passed that on to their families. What a wonderful legacy to invest in lives so that the memory of one can live on. Henry was known throughout the area and would give of his time whenever called upon. I know he truly loved his wife and it showed. I had the privilege to have been visiting him about two weeks ago and saw that weathered smile one more time. For that I am thankful. John Rink jr
